Gravity

© 2009 Radha Sahar Photo: Charles Bagnall

Good old Newton had a flash
Evolved the idea, gave it a bash
Wrote it on paper for all to see
And now we have the theory of gravity
What was firm is not so sound
What stayed up must come down
Look at great grandma and you will see
The long term effect of gravity

Gravity, gravity
It's all happening to you & me
Everything's falling down, you see
My fair lady!

What was tight is growing slack. You want your youthful figure back
Hormones, botox and breast reduction, face lift, tummy lift, liposuction
Work – Meanwhile y' can't go wrong uplifting the lot in dance and song
Forget the lines and sing with me - we'll laugh in the face of gravity

Gravity, gravity - It's all happening to you & me
Even your gynaecology, my fair lady!

But Newton's in a grave situation
Now physicists across the nation say
Our subatomic essence is totally free
Beyond the pull of gravity!

Quantum physics says that face consists of little - mainly space
Celebrate! It could be worse - Your essence is the universe!
So why not entertain this truth & drink from the quantum fountain of youth?
Laugh and sing triumphantly - Laugh in the face of gravity!

Gravity, gravity - It's all happening to you & me
Laugh and sing triumphantly, my fair lady!

Download this lyric-sheet free from the Baby Boomer Girl Blog
http://babyboomergirl.wordpress.com