

I Won't Forget You

© 2009 Radha Sahar Photo: Charles Bagnall

I forgot my list
I forgot my phone
So I can't call & tell you
I'll be late comin' home
I forgot and
Locked my keys in the car
I know I'm crazy
But there you are ...

I forgot Fred's birthday, forgot his wife's name
I've known them for years – how could I? Shame!
I forgot my password - don't have a clue
But I tell ya baby – I won't forget you

You're in my mind, you are all I see
You're in my heart, you're a part of me
You're stored in my aura
I love ya through and through
I won't forget you, I won't forget you

I forgot the stove was still on high
The meal's burnt – hope it's not on fire!
I forgot the time. It worries me, true
But I tell ya baby – I won't forget you

You forgot our anniversary - that's hard to forget!
My memory's selective I suppose, and yet
I forgot to forgive you - when push comes to shove
I'll forget I forgot, so don't worry love

I forgot the shopping, honey, then at dinner
I forgot my resolve – let's forget being thinner
Let's forget to remember all the things we have to do
As I show you baby how I won't forget you