

Paws

© Feb 2013 Radha Sahar

Women, they say, are like a book
Hard to read but it's easy to look
They might dress up in leopard skin tights
They're animal types
When they set their sights on you!

They're either apples, bananas or pears
But I say women are cuddly bears
They might dress down for menial chores
But love's in store
When they wrap their paws 'round you

Now it's time to pause
For more than a cup of tea, babe
It's time to pause, and
Wrap your paws, your pretty paws
Around me

Women are beautiful at every age
Even at the 'don't mention it' stage
When they mention being oh so wise
They realise that 'men – pause' is
A blessing in disguise

Women turn up with plates of food
Often in a playful mood
Wild cats or quiet birds in the nest
You are blessed
Coz they give their best to you

Now it's time to pause
For more than a cup of tea, babe
It's time to pause, and
Wrap your paws, your pretty paws
Wrap your paws, your pretty paws
Around me!