

MISSING YOU

Don't understand it
Dunno what's goin' on
There's a gap as wide as a football field
When you are gone
Such a deep down longing
Night and day
I eat chocolate cake
But it don't seem to take
The hunger away

You're my soothing syrup
You're my healing balm
You're my rib bone, baby
My 23rd psalm
You're my heavenly twin
Wish I was kissin' you
There's an hour
In every minute
I am missing you

Can't explain it - there's no tears. I'm not in pain
It's just the natural thing to do, to hang out with you
Now that you're in my veins
I lie awake well after one
And when daylight finally comes
I keep busy and yet
I never seem to get anything done
You're my soothing syrup ...

Never found I could count on love as much as this Sweet everyday, kinda work and play togetherness
You fill my being like the morning sun!
Can't help smilin' babe - I tell the whole parade
we are one

You're my soothing syrup, you're my healing balm ...
I'm wistful, it's true ... I'm missing you
